

The Horrible Day

Choy Sum Yi (5A)

Thunder broke the silence. Michelle shook in fear and curled up tightly.

The raindrops hit the windows. Michelle wanted to go to the toilet. She turned on the light but the light wasn't working. "Maybe there is no electricity," Michelle said to herself. She found the torch under the weak light and held it.

Michelle was standing outside the toilet when a flushing sound came from the toilet. 'Is there anyone in the toilet?' Mum and Dad are staying in Korea. Brother and Sister are going to a party, she thought. 'Is it a ghost? No, no. This is a stupid question!

So, she opened the door fearlessly.

'Ahhhh....' Michelle's face became pale. A ghost with its face all covered by its hair except its eyes was standing in front of her! It wore a white dress. Michelle ran as fast as she could. Some rough things caught her. She struggled and struggled, but she couldn't escape from it.

The light came on. Michelle looked at her sister and asked surprisingly, 'You?'

'How stupid you are! Today is Halloween!'

'Ah! I forget!'

'We wanted to play tricks on you!' They all laughed.